Approval of Minutes: The minutes of December 2, 2008 were approved.

Old Business:

An update of Active Admissions was given with a tentative live date of December 14, 2009. Troy University applicants will be encouraged to apply online by first completing a profile and then the application. All payment reconciliation will be at the Troy campus. Active Admissions is part of a newly designed web site for Troy University and will allow applicants to track their application online.

New Business:

Several programs recently added by Troy University include:

ACCELERATE: a program geared to home and private school students allowing online classes for dual enrollment.

eConnections: a program aimed at “place bound” community college students to continue their four-year degree with TROY online.

Both the ACCELERATE and eConnections programs have brought new students to Troy University who in the past may have attended elsewhere.

Troy University is not currently requiring or considering the requirement of the writing component of the ACT and SAT.

Additional notes were made concerning applicants and students: The retention level of conditionally admitted students remains a concern. The needs of adaptive needs students should be fully addressed during the application process.

With no further business, the meeting was adjourned.
