KHP Students Volunteer in the Community

KHP students have volunteered for a number of community service projects this academic year. Some of those activities include the annual Asthma Safari, fitness testing in the schools, and teaching health classes in the local schools. Service learning is a concept that means learn by doing, and KHP students are on the forefront. Tar Wars, a CDC anti-smoking education program, was taught in two local elementary schools. Other health topics such as heart health and dental health were taught by KHP students at a local high school. Many students volunteered to help set up, facilitate, and clean up at the annual Pike County Heart Walk. We look forward to these activities again during the next academic year.

Nick Costes Run 2008 a Resounding Success

The KHP Department sponsored the Annual Nick Costes Road Run on March 10th. The event, which has in the last few years has become a part of the University St. Patrick's Day celebration. The event is planned, organized, and administered by the KHP Club with the leadership of Dr. Michael Green. The Costes Road Race provides a real world opportunity for students to utilize skills learned regarding program planning and organization. The funds from the race will help provide student funds for students to attend conferences and workshops. Although runners were greeted with windy and wet conditions this did little to dampen the turnout. The race had over 60 entries (a record for recent years), and a total of 42 finishers. Will Browder and Shanie Brooks were the overall male and female winners. Browder finished with a time of 19:24. Brooks recorded a time of 23:22. See pictures at the end of the newsletter!

Fourth Annual Southern Sport Management Conference 2008

The 4th Annual Southern Sport Management Conference at Troy University was held April 17 and 18, 2008. There were 97 total participants from 8 different states. The participants were varied including professionals in sport management, college professors, graduate students, and undergraduate students. Many of the guests commented on the high quality of the Troy University facilities. The conference was designed and conducted by graduate students in the Sport Marketing course taught by Dr. Fred Green, Associate Professor in the Department of Kinesiology and Health Promotion. Students also raised money and secured donations for food, door prizes, and sponsorships. The experiential component of this graduate class is important to the overall growth and quality of the Sport and Fitness Management graduate program.

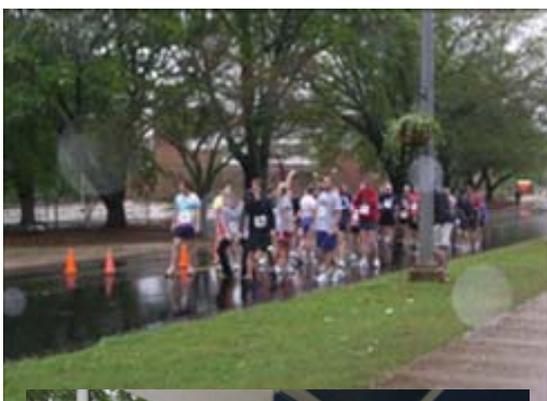

The conference had two keynote speakers; Mr. Tony Johnson, Southeast Regional Director of Strategic Marketing Affiliates, Inc., who is the representative for Troy University in all athletic licensing endeavors, and Mrs. Sherrie Myers, Owner Operator of the Montgomery Biscuits and six other minor league sport franchises/companies.

The conference theme was enhancing careers in sport management. Many of the speakers discussed numerous ways students could increase their chances of becoming employed in sport management. Nine other professional speakers made presentations; including Mr. Robert Cole, AG Edwards Financial Consultant and Mr. Paul Winn, Director of the Blue Gray Tennis Tournament (please visit the SSM Conference Website for information on the rest of our speakers). The feedback from conference participants has been extremely positive with most stating how informative and enjoyable the conference was. Dr. Fred Green looks forward to working with Troy University and future students in making the Southern Sport Management Conference even more attractive and successful.
